SUBJECT: SITUATION REPORT ON TONIGHT'S STORM

OVERVIEW – A series of tornados and severe weather moved across Southern Wisconsin this evening. Scattered damage has been reported. No report of injuries at this time. The State Emergency Operations Center (EOC) in Madison has been activated to monitor the storms. Staff from Wisconsin Emergency Management and the Wisconsin National Guard Joint Operations Center are in the EOC.

In Waukesha County, the Town of Eagle has reported damages from a suspected tornado. Several homes were apparently damaged and there is a gas leak in town.

WEM has spoken to the Lafayette, Green, Iowa, Dane, Jefferson, Columbia and Sauk County Emergency Management Directors. Many areas are reporting trees down, roof damage, hail damage and street flooding. Also reports of power outages throughout the region. No assistance is required at this time from any of these counties.

A tornado watch remains in effect for parts of the state.
